

Chicago Home Shows

Spring LOCATIONS

February 20 & 21, 2016

Georgios Banquets

8800 159th St, Orland Park

In 2011, we produced the first expo in this fabulous location. Previously holding expos in the southwest suburbs of Homer Glen since 2004, and before that Lemont. It's a great facility that dominates the area and has proven to be one of Chicagoland's best shows. Allowing over 800 parking spaces and a gorgeous interior that will surely draw crowds. This dense market is a wealthy one with older immaculately groomed homes and landscapes. Here, The Home Show will supplant all others in this area, from Homer to Tinley.

2121 W Indian Trl, Aurora

Since 2006, this show dominates lower Kane and northern Kendall Counties in this well-established southern Fox Valley area. It's, in effect, solo in the market. The 50,000sf facility was built just prior to our first show and it's in growth market of west Aurora. Vaughan Center is located on Indian Trail, just east of Randall Road. It's location offers easy access for all major towns in Kane and Kendall Counties – Geneva, Batavia, Sugar Grove, Oswego, Yorkville, Bristol and Montgomery. This show captures areas not served by other shows due to travel distance. Exhibitors working the lower Fox Valley will also find The Home Show unsurpassed in producing the best results for the advertising dollar.

Spring LOCATIONS

525 S Randall Rd, St Charles

Since 2009, St. Charles is one of the most sought after show markets in the Chicagoland suburbs, it offers continual opportunities for businesses in this highly active market. Our Fairground's show, is the show of choice for those serious attendees looking to do work and want the opportunity to have conversations with contractors for the northern Fox Valley area. The Fairgrounds on Randall Road has easy access for all towns along the river, from So. Elgin, Geneva, Batavia and, obviously, all of St. Charles.

March 19 & 20, 2016

Kane County Fairgrounds

April 2 & 3, 2016

Sheraton Lisle Hotel

3000 Warrenville Rd, Lisle, IL

Since 1993, The Home Shows has dominated the DuPage Market, with their Central DuPage Home Show. Pulling from a main vein of traffic, on Naperville Road and Warrenville Rd—DuPage County ranks 2nd in Illinois and #37 for the highest-income counties in the United States. The housing stock is a great mix of older houses, intermixed with new homes needing finishing touches.

Exhibitors will pull from great areas like Glen Ellyn, Wheaton, Warrenville, Carol Stream, Lisle, Downers Grove, Lombard, and Naperville.

Spring LOCATIONS

April 9 & 10, 2016

451 Plainfield Rd, Darien

Since 2007, this So. DuPage County gem really draws a crowd from the western suburbs. There you'll find a great mix of older homes, that are well groomed, and looking to get the work done. Talk to attendees pulling from Darien, Downers Grove, Hinsdale, Clarendon Hills, Westmont, Woodridge, Willow Brook and LaGrange.

Darien Sportsplex

April 16 & 17, 2016

Oak Lawn Pavilion

9401 S Oak Park Ave, Oak Lawn

Since 1991, Oak Lawn is the longest-running show produced annually in the Chicagoland area. This market has experienced new growth for repairs / remodeling / renovations due to its proximity to Chicago (immediately east). Older housing and rising gas prices has made rehabbing a growing market for Oak Lawn and surrounding communities (Palos, Chicago Ridge, Bridgeview, Burbank, Bedford Park and Justice) – re-gentrification out of necessity; not just popularity. The vast majority of homes were built before 1975. With a median age of 7 years older than the state, they tend to hire rather than 'To Do.' Old mortgages, economical housing and above average income makes project funding easier. How do you market this area? The old school way. Slow and easy. References and credentials dominate with an emphasis on experience. These show has loyal attendees and better results per show than any other in the south suburbs. There's always work in the Oak Lawn area . . . ALWAYS. They come looking to get things done. Spend more time with attendees and you'll establish the familiarity they need to invite you to bid their work. Focus on the using the good-better-best approach. Make Oak Lawn part of your marketing plan and you'll find steady work and dependable contracts.
